INDIAN STARTUP & INNOVATION ECOSYSTEM

Manglesh Yadav & Naman Agrawal

Science and technology play a pivotal role in the development of a nation, be it economic, social, or holistic demographic development. India has one of the strongest networks of science and technology institutions and a sizeable pool of highly skilled workforce. India has been steadily rising in the Global Innovation Index (GII) rankings and is currently ranked 46th position. India is one of the youngest countries entering the next decade, with 64% of the population in the working-age group. MNCs like Samsung, Bosch, Microsoft, CISCO, etc. have turned their focus on India to leverage the capability we have to offer. This provides a huge opportunity for the young, ambitious, and increasingly educated youth to become job creators rather than being job seekers.

The world is changing and we as humans are learning to adapt with it but this would have been an impossible journey without the support of the growing startup ecosystem. Radical technological advancements are transforming the world and are giving rise to new innovations at an exponential rate. Electronics miniaturisation has enabled a computer which was of the size of a room to becoming hand-held. With the convergence of computing, storage, and communications at incredibly lower costs the miniaturisation shall be even more transformational. Robotics and artificial intelligence are the driving forces of the next generation leading to higher productivity and efficient automation. With all this happening at such an incredible pace worldwide, what is it that we see missing in India today? May be a holistic innovation ecosystem which allows the cognitive capacity of our ever-growing workforce to express themselves as innovators and job creators. With over 1.35 billion people, close to a million schools, around 10,500 engineering establishments and a similar number of business schools, we need to ensure that the future generations are enabled and are able to realise their true potential and get opportunity to express and innovate. We need to address issues such as the need to update curricula as per the growing industry requirements, communication skills and techniques to improve technical writing. We should also focus on institutional strategies to increase the visibility of research conducted by scientists and financing of entrepreneurial activities; to promote and create incentives for commercializing innovations which are worthy and promote talent which aims at socio-economic improvement of the society at large. The Indian government has actively identified the policy gaps that exist in the industrial and innovation ecosystem and is implementing appropriate reforms to address and accelerate the growth of the ecosystem. The efforts can be seen bearing fruits as we see improvement in the Ease of Doing Business rankings. There have also been numerous Productivity Linked Incentives (PLI) schemes which have been rolled out in the last 18 months to provide acceleration to the manufacturing sector. All these and many more positive steps are being taken to ensure a leapfrog development of the Indian ecosystem.

India as the Innovation Nation: Gathering Momentum

The last few years have seen innovation in India reach a tipping point.

A keen and curious candidate preparing for the UPSC Civil Services (Main) examination must try to know the purpose of an essay paper in the exam scheme. There can be no better guide than the notification issued by the UPSC in this regard. The UPSC instructs the aspirants in the following words: "Candidates may be required to write essays on multiple topics. They will be expected to keep closely to the subject of the essay, to arrange their ideas in orderly fashion, and to write concisely. Credit will be given for effective and exact expression."

ESSAY PAPER FORMAT

A candidate is required to write essays on multiple topics. There are two sections in the essay paper - Section A and Section B. In each section, there are four different topics. One topic each has to be chosen from one two medium-sized essays, comprising 850-1000 words each, need to be completed in three hours. Each essay carries 125 marks.

CIVIL SERVICES (MAIN) EXAM

THE ESSENCE OF ESSAY WRITING

IMPORTANCE OF ESSAY PAPER

No competitive examination, including the civil services examination, can be cracked without a proper strategy to maximize chances of success and secure high marks. The two main papers that offer immense possibilities of securing high marks are: Essay and Ethics. Both these papers, if prepared sincerely and under proper guidance, can fetch better marks than the conventional General Studies papers. In fact, in the essay paper, the highest marks scored are above 150 out of 250, whereas getting even 130 marks in the GS papers is rare. Why is this so? The GS papers offer a formidable syllabus rendering it extremely difficult to command. As a result, balanced performance in GS papers is a challenging proposition. In contrast, the essay and ethics paper offer an opportunity to score well in the competition because of the very nature of their syllabus. Since both these papers are contextual and the topics are taken from experiences in our daily lives, the questions are pretty predictable. If you can prepare on around 50 selected themes, you will get at least two essays from these themes. But those 50 topics must be chosen wisely. The same is

The emergence of Indian unicorns along with their growing numbers has caused a huge participation in the startup ecosystem. India, as a country, is surrounded by challenges that demand innovative non-linear solutions. The challenges to be addressed are intertwined and are related to poverty, education, healthcare, and the environment.

With the confluence of a unique demographic dividend where over 150 million students will be entering into the workforce over the next few years and one of the fastest-growing major economies of the world; affordable, advanced, accessible technologies enabling rapid prototyping and deployment of innovations in every sphere of life will become a necessity. The Government of India is taking major steps to create and promote an ecosystem of innovation and entrepreneurship. One such significant intervention is the flagship initiative Atal Innovation Mission which focuses on building a culture of innovation to help transform a nation of job seekers to a nation of researchers, innovators, and job creators. Innovation plays a key role in the economic development of any nation, and the various technological changes contribute considerably to the development of developing economies.

Changing trends and challenges

- Rapidly evolving ecosystem: Demands are rapidly evolving and with this is changing the tastes of the customer. This adds pressure on industries to be more focused on high growth and quick adaptability resulting in higher rates of acquisitions and restructuring.
- Focus on futuristic deep techs: Incremental changes and innovations are not creating sustainable margins and hence to derive higher value and lead the competitive advantage, companies have had to focus more on their R&D, leading to research on application of next-gen technologies like genetic engineering, Internet of Things (IoT), 5G, quantum computing, etc. Startups have been a key generator of IPR (Intellectual Property Rights) in the last few years and are well poised to take on the future.
- Digitisation and democratisation of information – As the penetration of digital technologies increase, a huge volume of data is being generated. Organisations are reinventing their business models with a need to deal with increasing data, maintaining transparency and dissemination of information through their value chain network along with capitalizing on the information available to create new bundle of products.
- Requirement of specialised technology is progressing exponentially creating new opportunities of growth every few years. The ever-changing technological paradigm shifts the need for highly skilled workforce which is currently at a dearth. The cost of training individuals is growing but the solutions have started coming from a nascent startup ecosystem in the country and they believe in fail fast ideology.

Impact of changing trends in the field of science and technology

- Business: Business leaders in the last few years have started appreciating the existence of the startup ecosystem and have started challenging themselves to innovate relentlessly and continuously to keep up their numbers. Major conglomerates have introduced new product offerings trying to fulfil the existing and unserved demands by disrupting across the complete product value chain.

- Government: Governments and regulators have learnt the knack of being updated with the changing innovation ecosystem and have started updating the regulations to accept the ever-changing ecosystem to attain worldwide competitive position. The added pressure of understanding the ecosystem and updating regulations does create a major challenge on some occasions but the promising journey has begun.
- People: With technology being the driver for the future generation, the need for a check on the moral and ethical boundaries of the use of technology for providing better outcomes is an unanswered question. This does add some grey areas which will need to be checked.

The lifecycle approach to creating an innovative ecosystem:

Schools can create innovative, problem-solving leaders of the future and we need to ensure that we are able to create a sizeable number of entrepreneurs and innovators through the innovation initiatives of the country. The same can be done by establishment of the model followed by Atal Tinkering Labs and by the establishment of incubators in graduate colleges.

At the grassroots, a cultural shift in attitude towards entrepreneurship through education and awareness and through incentivization of relevant product innovations with commercial and social impact can go a long way in achieving the equity in the growing innovation ecosystem. This shall not only trigger and incentivise entrepreneurial thinking but also minimise the fear of risk-taking and risk management.

Recognising this need, the Government of India has set up

(AIM) to promote a culture of innovation and entrepreneurship in the country. AIM's objective is to develop new programmes and policies for fostering innovation in different sectors of the economy, provide platform and collaboration opportunities for stakeholders, and create awareness and create an umbrella structure to oversee the innovation ecosystem of the country.

ATAL INNOVATION MISSION

Atal Innovation Mission has adopted a holistic framework to achieve its objective of creating a culture of innovation and entrepreneurship in the country. It is doing so by taking on a lifecycle approach of not only building an entrepreneur but also supporting them with the right institutional development and further grants-in-aid mechanism.

In recent years, there is an increasing number of startups registration in the country owing to the success of a handful of unicorns that have been created but there is a huge potential in the country to create hundreds of such unicorns in the coming years. The conviction is because a solution catering to gaps existing in India is a solution for the world and hence there is greater need for institutions which can guide the startups to growth and prosperity while they fight sustenance is of utmost importance.

Incubator is the go-to support mechanism in any developing startup ecosystem, the same is true for us but we still need to define the right model for ourselves. The base of any country's growth lies in the ever-growing industrial revolution and the same can be made possible in India, if incubators and corporates tie up together to roll out the Industrial 4.0 Revolution. A model where incubators/ accelerators are feeder networks for corporates and corporates look at their startup ecosystem as their extended R&D arms. This is a model for a few incubators like the i-Hub, i-Create, T-Hub etc. All these have found their niche models and are excelling in their journey. With more than 100 smart cities, there is immense opportunity to build a sustain-able model of governance and startups working together to provide necessary services efficiently across the country.

Activities carried out under Atal Innovation Mission

Atal Innovation Mission (AIM), NITI Aayog, is Government of India's flagship initiative to promote a culture of innovation and entrepreneurship in the country and was setup in 2016. Towards this end, AIM has taken a holistic approach to ensure creation of a problem-solving innovative mindset in schools and creating an ecosystem of entrepreneurship in universities, research institutions, private and MSME sector. All the initiatives of AIM are currently monitored and managed systematically using real-time MIS systems and

1) Atal Tinkering Labs - at school level

Over the last 4 years, AIM has launched the Atal Tinkering Lab (ATL) program. ATL is a state-of-the-art space established in a school with a goal to foster curiosity and innovation in young minds, between grade 6th to 12th across the country through 21st century tools and technologies such as Internet of Things, 3D printing, rapid prototyping tools, robotics, miniaturized electronics, do-it-yourself kits and many more. The aim is to stimulate a problem-solving innovative mindset among children. Till date, AIM has selected 10,000 schools in over 680 districts of the country for the establishment of ATLs. More than 9000 schools are funded and over 2 million students have access to ATLs.

2) Atal Incubation Centres - at universities, institutions, industry

To promote creation of a supportive ecosystem for startups and entrepreneurs, AIM has been establishing world class incubators called Atal Incubation Centres (AICs) in universities, institutions, corporate houses, etc. These AICs would foster world class innovative start-ups and help them become scalable and sustainable enterprises. To date, AIM has operationalized 68 Atal Incubation Centres with universities / institutions / private players and each of the AIC will foster creation and nurturing of 40-50 world class startups every four years. AIC supports startups by providing technological facilities and advices, initial growth funds, network and linkages, co-working spaces, lab facilities, mentoring and advisory support. They are often a good path to capital from angel investors, government organizations, economic-development coalitions, venture capitalists and other investors. Till date, more than 2000 startups have been supported by these AICs, out of these more than 500 startups are women-led.

3) Atal Community Innovation Centres - serving the unserved and underserved regions of India

To promote the benefits of technology led innovation to the unserved/ underserved regions of India including Tier 2, Tier 3 cities, aspirational districts, tribal, hilly and coastal areas, AIM is setting up Atal Community Innovation Centres with a unique partnership driven model wherein AIM would grant upto Rs 2.5 crores to an AIC subject to a partner proving equal or greater matching funding. 50+ AICs will be established during the next two years.

World Braille Day

World Braille Day, celebrated since 2019 on January 4, is observed to raise awareness of the importance of Braille as a means of communication in the full realization of the human rights for blind and partially sighted people. The date marks the birth anniversary of Louis Braille, the creator of this unique and revolutionary writing system. Louis Braille, himself a visually challenged person, developed a system for visually challenged persons and published it in the 1820s. The present system was adopted in 1932. Braille is essential in the context of education, freedom of expression and opinion, as well as social inclusion.

What is Braille?

Braille is a tactile representation of alphabetic and numerical symbols using six dots to represent each letter and number, and even musical, mathematical and scientific symbols. Braille (named after its inventor in 19th century France, Louis Braille) is used by visually challenged and partially sighted people to read the same books and periodicals as those printed in a visual font.

The Braille system has 63 dot patterns or characters. Each character represents a letter, a combination of letters, a common word or a grammatical sign. Dots are arranged in cells of two vertical rows of three dots each. These patterns when embossed on Braille sheets help visually challenged persons to recognise words by touching. To make them easier to touch, the dots are raised slightly.

Visually impaired people learn the Braille system by beginning with letters, then special characters and letter combinations. Methods depend upon recognition by touching. Each character has to be memorised. Braille texts can be produced by hand or by machine. Typewriter-like devices and printing machines have now been developed. Many Indian languages can be read using the Braille system.

Who was Louis Braille?

Louis Braille, born in Coupvray (France), was blinded in an accident when he was three years old. But that did not stop him from getting educated—first at the village school, and then, from the ages of 10 to 18, at the Royal Institute for Blind Youth in Paris, founded 34 years before by Valentin Haüy. Teaching in this school was done with the system invented by Haüy: the books had black letters (the letters of the printed script used by sighted people) but in relief. They were, however, very difficult to read by touch, because they were very close together. Moreover, the pupils could not write, because it required a printing press, with paper needing to be dipped in water before being put on the press and then dried.

While at school, Louis Braille became enthusiastic about Charles Barbier de la Serre's system, which could easily be read and written, and only needed a simple board and a stamp that could fit in a pocket. However, he thought it had its limitations because it only transcribed phonetics. He began working on improving its principles when he was 12.

The first thing Braille did was reduce the number of raised dots from twelve to six, so that they all fit under the index finger and were easier and quicker to read. With this as a basis, he created a complete alphabet, including punctuation, numerical signs, and digits. This was a key distinction from Barbier's phonetic system. Louis Braille was a music enthusiast who excelled at organ. He thus adapted his system for music at the age of 19, when he incorporated music scores into his system (Braille music).

He explained his method in his book Method for Writing Words, Music and Plain Song by Means of Dots for the Use of the Blind (Procédé pour écrire les paroles, la musique et le plain-chant au moyen de points à l'usage des aveugles).

Government Schemes for the Visually Impaired

From changing the narrative from Viklang into 'Divyang', bringing Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, and ensuring accessibility of education, economic and social development, to rehabilitation wherever necessary, the Government has initiated several schemes for the benefit of the persons with disabilities, including the visually impaired. Here are some of the several initiatives taken by the Government.

A. The Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi, in March 2019 released the new series of visually impaired friendly circulation coins of Rs. 1, Rs. 2, Rs. 5, Rs. 10 and Rs. 20. These are the various denominations of coins released as part of the new series. The coins are characterized by the increasing size and weight from lower to higher denominations. The newly included coin of Rs 20 is a 12 sided coin with no serrations.

The rest of the denominations are of round shape.

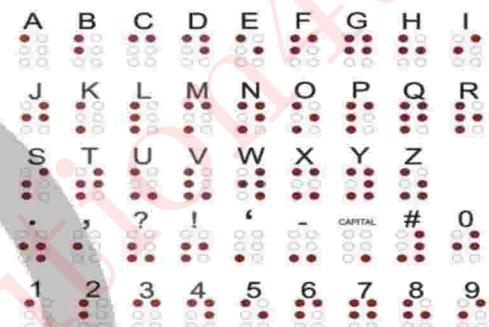

B. In pursuance of the provisions under Article 41 of the Constitution, the Central Sector

Scheme of "Support for Establishment/Modernization/Capacity Augmentation of Braille Presses" was started in the year 2014-15 to provide the Braille material and literature to the Persons with Visual Disabilities in India. From the year 2020-21, it has become part of "Scheme for Implementation of Persons' with Disabilities Act (SIPDA)". Under the Braille Press scheme financial assistance has been provided to 27 Braille Presses (Establishment of New Braille Presses-12, Modernized Braille presses-12 and Capacity Augmented of old Braille Presses-3) in various states. Apart from non-over the last seven years. These Braille Presses are supported for recurring grants for printing and providing textbooks and other course materials to the visually impaired school going children across the country. The objectives of the scheme is to establish new Braille Presses in the state where strong organisations are already present; to establish small scaled Braille Presses in UTs and to modernize old Braille Presses using traditional and low speed printing.

C. Indian banknotes contain several features which enable the visually impaired (colour blind, partially sighted and the visually challenged) to identify them, viz., intaglio printing and tactile mark, variable banknote size, large numerals, variable colour, monochromatic hues and patterns. Technological progress has opened up new opportunities for making Indian banknotes more accessible for the visually impaired, thereby facilitating their day to day transactions. The RBI has developed a mobile application "Mobile Aided Note Identifier (MANI)" to aid visually impaired persons to identify the denomination of Indian Banknotes. The app, launched in January 2020, helps in identifying the denominations of Mahatma Gandhi Series and Mahatma Gandhi (New) Series banknotes by checking front or reverse side/part of the note including half folded notes at various holding angles and broad range of light conditions (normal light/day light/low light). The app can help identify the denomination through audio notification in Hindi/English and non-sonic mode such as vibration (suitable for those with vision and hearing impairment). After installation, the mobile application does not require the internet and works in offline mode. However, the app does not authenticate a note as being either genuine or counterfeit.

D. Amenities, such as Braille cultural notice boards/signages, exhibitions with Braille labels, and tactile paths, are being provided to make cultural heritage sites accessible to the visually impaired.

5) ARISE ANIC challenges - to stimulate startup/ MSME industry innovation

To promote innovation in a phased manner in the MSME/startup sector, AIM has launched 15 ARISE-ANIC challenges along with partner ministries (Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs, Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Indian Space Research Organisation, Ministry of Defence and Ministry of Food Processing Industries) to improve research capabilities in the startup and MSME ecosystem. As part of this, deserving ideas will be converted to viable innovative prototypes followed by product development and commercial deployment. 26 applicants have been selected for grant-in-aid support and hand holding by incubators / mentors and are currently undergoing due diligence.

Conclusion

The remarkable growth of the fast-growing 180+ billion dollar IT/ITES and biotech industry in India over the past decade has showed the world India's scientific, engineering and technological prowess and capabilities. All the multinationals of the world are leveraging Indian talent and rushing to set up large R&D hubs in India. Aatmanirbhar Bharat has now turned the gaze of this world-class innovative talent inwards, to create products and services for the Indian market at par with other countries. Catalysing this stupendous potential are affordable, accessible, advanced IR 4.0 technologies, including 3D printing, IOT, AR/VR, biotech, cognitive computing, AI/Blockchain, to name a few. With one of the fastest-growing startup ecosystems—over 30,000 startups and 300+ incubators—India can surely position itself as one of the leading innovative nations of the world.

The time is ripe for micro-finance and rural-financing schemes to spur great innovations and entrepreneurial initiatives on the socio-economic front. It is crucial to ensure gender equality, address economic disparity and equal opportunities for differently abled communities. Fast-growing economies such as ours also need to be extremely wary of climate change related issues. Therefore, it is important that the Sustainable Development Goals remain the overarching objective of every organization.

Also, India has seen promising Private Equity / Venture Capital investments in the last few years and the trend has not stopped even as we have been fighting the Covid-19 pandemic. The amount of Foreign Direct Investment inflow has been steady and has a big future ahead as the country grows and shall become the 5 trillion dollar economy soon. All the investments have also led the Indian startup ecosystem go global and compete with the best providing us an opportunity to become a huge superpower soon.

To summarise, India did catch up a little late in the industrial revolution that swept the world in the last century. But India does have a fantastic chance to contribute to the world in the knowledge-based revolution that is sweeping the world today. That is why AIM initiatives are so important and need to be embraced by all. The children and youth of the future deserve to realise the Vision of a New India by 2022. We all need to make it happen collectively.

RIVERS-LIFELINES FOR ECONOMIC GROWTH

B S Purkayastha

INTER-LINKING OF RIVERS (ILR)

This ambitious project envisages transferring water from water-surplus basins to water-deficit basins. Under the National Perspective Plan (NPP), the National Water Development Agency (NWDA) has identified 30 links to connect 16 rivers under the Peninsular Component and 14 under the Himalayan Component to form a gigantic South Asian Water Grid. While the implementation of the ILR projects depends on the consensus among the concerned states, implementing the NPP would ensure 35 million hectares of irrigated land (25 million ha from surface waters and 10 million ha by increased use of ground waters), raising the ultimate irrigation potential from 140 million ha to 175 million ha and generation of 34000 MW of hydro power, apart from the incidental benefits of flood control, navigation, water supply, fisheries, salinity and pollution control.

The Himalayan Component envisages construction of storage reservoirs on the main Ganga and Brahmaputra rivers and their principal tributaries in India. Links will transfer surplus flows of the Kosi, Gandak and Ghagra to the west. In addition, the Brahmaputra-Ganga Link will augment dry-weather flow of the Ganga. Surplus flows that will become available on account of inter-linking of the Ganga and the Yamuna are proposed to be transferred to the drought prone areas of Haryana, Rajasthan and Gujarat.

The proposed 14 links in the Himalayan Component are:

1. Kosi-Mechi, 2. Kosi-Ghagra, 3. Gandak-Ganga, 4. Ghagra-Yamuna, 5. Sarda-Yamuna, 6. Yamuna-Rajasthan, 7. Rajasthan-Sabarmati, 8. Chunar-Sone Barrage, 9. Sone Dam-South Tributaries of Ganga, 10. Brahmaputra-Ganga (MSTG), 11. Brahmaputra-Ganga (JTF) (ALT), 12. Farakka-Sunderbans, 13. Ganga-Damodar-Subernarekha, 14. Subernarekha-Mahanadi

The central component of peninsular rivers development is the Southern Water Grid which is envisaged to link Mahanadi, Godavari, Krishna, Pennar, and Cauvery rivers. The Peninsular Component comprises diversion of surplus flows of Mahanadi and Godavari to Krishna, Pennar, Cauvery and Vaigai, diversion of west-flowing rivers of Kerala and Karnataka to the east, inter-linking small rivers flowing along the west coast, north of Mumbai and south of Tapi and inter-linking the southern tributaries of Yamuna.

The proposed 16 links in Peninsular Component are:

1. Mahanadi(Manibhadra)-Godavari, 2. Godavari (Inchampalli)-Krishna (Nagarjunsagar), 3. Godavari (Inchampalli Low Dam)-Krishna (Nagarjunsagar Tail Pond), 4. Godavari (Polavaram)-Krishna (Vijaywada), 5. Krishna (Almati)-Pennar, 6. Krishna (Srisaillam) - Pennar, 7. Krishna (Nagarjunsagar) - Pennar (Somasila), 8. Pennar (Somasila)-Cauvery (Grand Anicut), 9. Cauvery (Kattalai) - Vaigai - Gundar, 10. Ken-Betwa, 11. Parbati-Kalisindh-Chambal, 12. Par-Tapi-Narmada, 13. Damanganga-Pinjal, 14. Bedti-Varda, 15. Netravati-Hemavati, 16. Pamba-Achankovil-Vaippar

Under the NPP, it is proposed to link Ganga to Cauvery river through a series of links viz., Ganga (Farakka)-Damodar-Subernarekha, Subernarekha-Mahanadi, Mahanadi-Godavari-Krishna-Pennar-Cauvery. The proposal envisages diversion of surplus waters to be delivered by the preceding Manas-Sankosh-Teesta-Ganga(MSTG) link upstream of Farakka barrage through Ganga-Damodar-Subernarekha link and further south. NWDA has completed the draft feasibility reports of Ganga(Farakka)-Damodar-Subernarekha, Subernarekha-Mahanadi links and circulated among party States in July 2020. The feasibility reports of the links viz., Mahanadi-Godavari, Godavari-Krishna, Krishna-Pennar, Pennar-Palar-Cauvery link projects have also been completed and circulated to party states.

KEN-BETWA INTER-LINK PROJECT

First off the block is the Ken-Betwa inter-link with the Union Cabinet earlier this month approving the project with a total cost of Rs 44,605 crore. Central support of Rs 39,317 crore will be provided for the project, covering grant of Rs 36,290 crore and loan of Rs 3,027 crore. The project has a deadline of eight years. A Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV) called Ken-Betwa Link Project Authority (KBLPA) will be set up to implement the project.

Under the Ken-Betwa link project, water will be transferred from Ken to Betwa through the construction of Daudhan Dam and a canal linking the two rivers. Under Phase-I, Daudhan Dam complex and its appurtenances like Low Level Tunnel, High Level Tunnel, Ken-Betwa link canal and power houses — will be completed. In Phase-II, three components — Lower Orr Dam, Bina Complex project and Kotha Barrage — will be constructed.

The project will provide an annual irrigation of 10.62 lakh ha, drinking water supply to a population of about 62 lakh and also generate 103 MW of hydropower and 27 MW solar power. The project will be of immense benefit to the water-starved Bundelkhand region, spread across the states of Madhya Pradesh and Uttar Pradesh.

RIVER REJUVENATION PROGRAMMES

The flow in a river is a dynamic parameter and depends on many sub-parameters such as rainfall, its distribution, duration and intensity in the catchment, health of catchment area, vegetation and withdrawals/utilization of water. The annual average flow data maintained by Central Water Commission (CWC) for last 20 years for major/important rivers in the country does not indicate any significant decline in water availability. However, as per CWC, the per capita annual water availability in the country has progressively reduced due to increase in population, urbanization, improved lifestyle of people, etc.

Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) in association with the State Pollution Control Boards (SPCBs)/Pollution Control Committees (PCCs) is assessing the ambient water quality of both surface and ground water under the National Water Monitoring Programme (NWMP) at 4,294 locations in the country including 2,026 locations on rivers. As per CPCB report of September 2018, 351 polluted river stretches have been identified on 323 rivers based on monitoring results in terms of Bio-chemical Oxygen Demand (BOD) levels, an indicator of organic pollution. Altogether, 28 States/ 3 UTs are implementing action plans prepared by State River Rejuvenation Committees for rejuvenation of these 351 polluted stretches.

NATIONAL RIVER CONSERVATION PLAN (NRCP)

The Ministry of Jal Shakti has been supplementing efforts of the States/UTs by providing financial and technical assistance for abatement of pollution in identified

Ganga for rivers in Ganga basin and Centrally Sponsored Scheme of National River Conservation Plan (NRCP) for other rivers. NAMAMI GANGE PROGRAMME

Under Namami Gange programme for conservation and pollution abatement of the River Ganga and its tributaries, a total of 353 projects have been sanctioned at a cost of Rs 30,458 crore, out of which 178 projects have been completed and made operational. A total of 157 sewerage infrastructure projects from among these have been taken up with a sanctioned cost of Rs 24,249 crore for creation and rehabilitation of 4952 MLD of STP capacity and laying of around 5212 KM sewerage network, out of which, 74 projects have been completed resulting in creation and rehabilitation of 1092 MLD of STP capacity and laying of 3752 KM sewerage network. CPCB has identified priority drains responsible for carrying sewage, industrial wastes and agriculture run-off into river Ganga. These drains are being monitored on half yearly-basis. Out of a total of 151 priority drains, flows from 145 drains will be covered through their interception and diversion or sewer network for treatment through 113 sewerage projects taken on main stem of Ganga under Namami Gange Programme for creation of 2171 MLD capacity. The sewage treatment capacity in main stem towns has increased from 1305 MLD (2014) to 2372 MLD (November 2021). Altogether, 42 projects have been taken up in towns located along rivers Yamuna, Kali, Ramganga, Saryu, Gomti, Damodar, Banka, Rispana, Kharkai, Kosi and Burhi Gandak. Development of ghats and crematoria works in select cities has been taken up, of which 173 ghats and 45 crematoria have been completed. During the last three years, 39 projects under Namami Gange programme have been completed. Further, 572 MLD of installed sewage treatment capacity was added in the towns along river Ganga main stem.

The government in 2018 notified the minimum environmental flows for river Ganga to be maintained at various locations on the river. The order applies to the Upper Ganga River Basin starting from originating glaciers and through respective confluences of its head tributaries finally meeting at Devprayag up to Haridwar and the main stem of river Ganga up to Unnao district of Uttar Pradesh. As a result of multi sectoral interventions, the median values of these water quality parameters viz., Dissolved Oxygen (DO), Biochemical Oxygen Demand (BOD) and Faecal Coliform (FC) have improved at 40 locations, 41 locations and 21 locations respectively in 2021 (January-May) as compared to 2014.

Similarly, 1270 MLD of treatment capacity has been created under the YAP Phase - I & II projects on river Yamuna in Haryana, Delhi and Uttar Pradesh for its conservation. Besides, the Central Government/ NMCG (National Mission for Clean Ganga) has sanctioned 24 projects in Himachal Pradesh, Haryana, Delhi and Uttar Pradesh under Namami Gange Programme to abate pollution load to river Yamuna which will create 1310.6 MLD Sewage Treatment Plant (STP) capacity and rehabilitate 528.18 MLD STP capacity. Two projects have been completed in Sonapat and Panipat creating STP capacity of total 70 MLD and rehabilitation of 75 MLD STPs.

DAMS OVER OUR RIVERS

The Dam Safety Bill 2021 provides a statutory framework for surveillance, inspection, operation and maintenance of specified dams over rivers for prevention of dam failure related disasters. As per the provision of the Bill, a National Committee on Dam Safety (NCDS) will help evolve uniform dam safety policies, protocols, and procedures. The Bill also provides for the establishment of a National Dam Safety Authority (NDSA) as a regulatory body for ensuring the nationwide implementation of dam safety policies and standards. At the State level, the Bill prescribes for the constitution of State Committees on Dam Safety (SCDS) and the establishment of the State Dam Safety Organizations (SDSO).

As per the National Register of Large Dams (2019) compiled and maintained by CWC, there are 227 large dams in India which are older than 100 years. Under the World Bank assisted Dam Rehabilitation and Improvement Project (DRIP), Phase-I, which was implemented during April 2012 to March 2021, new technologies and innovations were utilized for rehabilitation and repairs at 223 dams located in Jharkhand, Karnataka, Kerala, Madhya Pradesh, Odisha, Tamil Nadu and Uttarakhand. The original financial outlay was Rs 3466 crore, with final completion cost of Rs 2567 crore. Apart from structural measures to improve hydrologic safety, hydro-mechanical measures, seepage reduction, structural stability etc., non structural measures such as dam break analyses, emergency action plans, O&M manuals, were put in place for the selected dams. In addition, DHARMA (Dam Health and Rehabilitation Monitoring), a system to monitor the health of dams, has been developed. A seismic hazard analysis information system (SHAISYS) has also been developed.

Ministry of Jal Shakti has again initiated DRIP Phase II and Phase III by inviting proposals from the States. This new scheme has 19 States, and three Central Agencies on board. The budget outlay is Rs 10,211 crore (Phase II: Rs 5107 crore; Phase III: Rs 5104 crore) with rehabilitation provision of 736 dams. The Phase II of DRIP is being co-financed by World Bank and Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank (AIIB), whereas funding for Phase III will be triggered at later stage. The Scheme is of 10 years duration, proposed to be implemented in two phases, each of six years duration with two years overlap. Each phase has external assistance of US$500 million.

CIVIL SERVICES (MAIN) EXAM

true of the ethics paper. Unfortunately, some civil services aspirants do not understand the scope of the essay and ethics papers and keep their preparations tilted in favour of GS only. There is no single book available that can serve the purpose in the essay preparation. Then, there are many self-styled, self-appointed experts who make the essay paper appear too technical and kill the authentic flavour of essay writing. All this makes it imperative to get original with the essay preparations, i.e., consult original sources, develop a standard writing format instead of imitating others and do extensive practice before the actual examination. It is advisable to write at least 100 practice essays on various topics, including topics asked in previous years. Unlike the GS papers, which seek to test a candidate's knowledge of various issues of general interest, the essay paper has been kept with a different purpose. It is intended to test the following.

- Organised presentation of ideas
- Linguistic skills, i.e., effective writing skills
- Creativity
- Capacity to develop both arguments and counter-arguments on a topic and ability to reach a conclusion.

WHAT IS AN ESSAY?

Going by the dictionary meaning, an essay is a short literary composition on a particular issue. The term essay was first popularized by a French writer, Michel de Montaigne, in the 16th century, who described his works as essays. For him, "an essay was his attempt to put his thoughts in writing." Aldous Huxley, a British essayist of the 19th century has described the essay in the following words: "The essay is a literary device for saying almost everything about almost anything. By definition, the essay is a short piece." Huxley divided essays into three broad categories.

- Personal essays: it is a reflective biography in which the essayist looks at the world from his own prism.
- The objective, factual, and concrete essays: Here, the authors do not speak directly of themselves, but turn to some theme. In this type of essay, the art of writing consists of setting forth, passing judgment upon and drawing general conclusions from the relevant data.
- The abstract-universal type of essays: these are neither personal nor objective essays; they are abstractions tilting towards philosophy.

In broad terms, essay topics being asked in the Civil Services examination for the last several years fall in the above three categories. However, it will be wise to simplify the categories further for greater clarity. A close scrutiny of essay topics chosen for the IAS exam helps to bunch the essays in the following categories.

PHILOSOPHICAL ESSAYS

Such topics are given in section A of the essay paper. For example, the following topics in last year's exam can be labeled as philosophical essays:-

- Life is a long journey between human being and being humane.
- Mindful manifesto is the catalyst to a tranquil self.
- Ships do not sink because of water around them; ships sink because of water that gets into them.
- Simplicity is the ultimate sophistication.

How to attempt philosophical essays: The answer to this lies in widening reading habits. Unless you have a basic familiarity with the thoughts of well-known philosophers like Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, you cannot generate good content on a given topic. Other than philosophers, one also needs to be well acquainted with modern thinkers, statesmen like Martin Luther King, Gandhi, Nelson Mandela, Abdul Kalam, etc. Reading about ancient monarchs, and statesmen like Ashoka, Kautilya, etc. will also help in organizing ideas on the topic of the essay. Famous quotes by these great personalities should be understood in a modern context. For example, the famous quote of Socrates, "An unexamined life is not worth living" has been asked in the UPSC essay paper in the past. Unless you know who has made this statement, it would be a wild attempt to write an essay on this topic as you are not familiar with the author of this quote and what he implies by this. To take another example, the 2020 essay topic: "Culture is what we are, civilisation is what we have." Now, this quotation again has been taken from the writings of a famous sociologist, R M MacIver, on culture and civilisation. Unless you are able to understand that your reading habits should be diversified in a manner that includes engaging with philosophers, thinkers, you will not make efforts to read such things because these are not part of your daily reading habits. Such habits can be inculcated only through continued reading over a period of time. It is impossible to read these at the last moment.

ESSAYS ON SOCIO-ECONOMIC ISSUES

Quite a few essays will fall under this category. For example, in the 2020 essay paper, one topic was on social justice and economic prosperity, while another topic related to patriarchy being responsible for social inequality. Fortunately, these topics sound familiar to the candidates because they appear in public discourse quite frequently. However, writing a structured essay on these topics is different from just knowing about these topics. This is so because you will have to examine issues like patriarchy, social justice, from various perspectives, cite examples, and prescribe solutions. A holistic perspective on a social, economic topic is possible only when you make your essay multidimensional.

How to attempt essays on social and economic themes: You should list social issues covering women, children, weaker sections, and the poor. Also, attention must be paid to social evils like dowry, drugs, alcoholism, etc. Similarly, economic issues such as income inequality, pandemic-driven financial stress, adverse impacts of globalisation, universal basic income etc. should be kept in mind. Every week, you should contemplate a probable topic on a social or economic theme and prepare it.

ESSAYS ON POLITICAL THEMES

Under this category, the probable topics are democracy, suitability of parliamentary democracy for India, federalism, the role of opposition in a democracy, issues pertaining to judiciary, the role of Panchayati Raj etc.

How to prepare for essays on political issues: First, one should list essay topics from a particular theme. For example on democracy, essay topics can be: democratic deficit, authoritarian democracy, global coalition for democracy. Similarly, on federalism, topics could be: cooperative and competitive federalism, fiscal federalism, coercive federalism. Once topics are selected, one should look for good write-ups in newspapers, magazines, and

ESSAYS ON INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

One essay on an international issue is invariably asked every year. It pertains to Indian foreign policy, or role of international bodies, or the present world order. For example, an essay on non-alignment has been asked. The likely themes on which essays can be asked this year are: The present world order, contours of an emerging multipolar world, deglobalisation, climate change, need for global efforts to tackle pandemics, a new cold war in the making.

How to prepare for topics on international relations: Newspapers are the best sources for global issues. However, reading the latest books on international relations will add to your concepts. The following books are recommended: - The New World Disorder and the Indian Imperative by Shashi Tharoor, India and Asian Geopolitics by Shivashankar Menon, and The India Way by S. Jaishankar.

ESSAYS ON SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

One essay topic always comprises themes relating to science and technology. The current developments in emerging technologies like artificial intelligence, robotics, biotechnology, reproductive technology, space technology constitute topics for the essay paper.

How to prepare science and technology-related essays: It should be remembered that mere knowledge of scientific developments cannot help in writing an essay. What is needed is to probe their ethical, moral dimensions. For example, development of artificial intelligence has raised a number of ethical questions. Those questions should be addressed in the essay rather than explaining just the technical developments.

STRUCTURE OF AN ESSAY

Though no word limit is prescribed for the essay, the ideal size of an essay should be 850-1000 words. The introduction, the body, and the conclusion must be arranged within this word limit. The introduction should comprise 170-200 words. You must introduce the main theme of the essay and also what you are going to argue in the following paragraphs. This will make your stand clear to the examiner at the beginning itself. The essay's main body should comprise five separate paragraphs, each consisting of 125 words. Each paragraph should carry a central argument on the topic, and arguments should be presented in a systematic and connected manner in different sections. You should raise questions in these paragraphs and answer them. You should comment on both the argument and the counter-argument on the given topic and form your own opinion. The conclusion should consist of 150-175 words. You should wrap up your arguments in a summarizing manner and also suggest a way forward. The conclusion should look different from the introduction.

RIVERS-LIFELINES FOR ECONOMIC GROWTHRIVERS AS INLAND WATERWAYS

The Ministry of Ports, Shipping and Waterways has declared 111 waterways (5 existing and the 106 new) as National Waterways (NWs) so as to promote inland water transport in the country. Among this, the Inland Waterways Authority of India (IWA) has found 25 waterways fit for cargo or passenger move-ments. Of the 25 NWs, developmental work is already under-way in 13 of them. Meanwhile, the IWA has undertaken comprehensive development of NW-2 (Brahmaputra River) and NW-16 (Barak River) and Indo Bangladesh protocol route at the cost of Rs 461 crore and Rs 145 crore, respectively, to establish critical connectivity along with infrastructure development in the north eastern states.

Cargo movement on NWs in 2020-21 stood at 83.61 million tonnes, a 13% increase compared to 2019-20. Approximately 54.03 million tonnes of cargo were transported on NWs during the period April, 2021 to October, 2021. The Inland Vessels Bill 2021, passed by Parliament in August this year, is expected to further facilitate harmonised and effective regulation of the inland vessels and their seamless and rules and regulations uniformly applicable under the new law, instead of separate rules in different states, would ensure seamless and cost-effective trade with inland vessels using the waterways.

Conclusion

For an agriculture dominant country like India, rivers are the lifelines not just for the farmers but for the entire economy. While irrigation and hydropower generation are the obvious benefits, rivers can be economic engines for the country if we are able to rightly harness the power of this natural asset. A visionary approach, shaped by scientific principles and equitable policies, is essential to ensure that not just the current generation, but future generations of Indians too, benefit from the largesse of these rivers.
